That was a laughable circumstance which happened on North Main street shortly after seven o'clock last evening.

A couple of second ward young ladies were on their way to church, reaching the corner of Main and North Second streets just in time to stop in front of a procession of some fifty or sixty men and boys who had been up the river picnic-

Briefers.

—"The Planter's Wife" at the opera house this evening.

—Mr. Charles Myers, of Chicago, spent Sunday with his father, Mr. Peter Myers of this city.

—A large number of Janesville people will go to Milwaukee next Saturday, and many will remain there over Sunday.

—Dr. W. H. Perry, of Girard, Michigan, is in the city the guest of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Judd, North Bluff street, second ward.

—Crystal Temple of Honor No. 32, regular weekly meeting this evening.

—Yankirk Bros.' delivery horse started out on a trip without a driver this morning, but was stopped before any damage was done.

—Yesterday was the hottest day so far this season, at one o'clock in the afternoon the thermometer registered 94 degrees in the shade.

—Mrs. D. D. French and Mrs. D. C. Van Brunt, of Horicon, this state, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stearns, Washington street, first ward.

—Miss Fannie Bates, of Milwaukee, and Mrs. Mattie Calkins, of Chicago, are spending a few days with Mrs. Clint Wilcox, East street, second ward.

—Another immense swarm of cicadas visited the city on Saturday evening filling the air near the electric lights, the buildings and sidewalks in the vicinity of the lights being covered with the little pests.

—The Craig comedy company will appear at the opera house this evening, continuing through the week. This evening the "Planter's Wife" will be presented. The company come with the best press recommendations.

—Dr. C. L. Clark, who has been suffering for the past seven weeks from a sprained ankle, has so recovered the use of the crippled limb, that he will return to his Chicago office the last of this week.

—Mr. Elmer Main, proprietor of the west side sprinkling wagon, is confined to his home by illness, which it is hoped is but of temporary duration. Mr. Arthur Ott is attending to the sprinkling of the streets during Mr. Main's illness.

—One of the bill-men of the coming circus was prostrated by the heat this morning, while putting up paper on the board opposite Herman Buchholz's carriage shop. He was carried into a nearby saloon, and after a short rest, returned to his work.

—The woods were full of pleasure seekers yesterday. Captain Buchholz was kept busy all day with his little steamer carrying people to Pope's Springs and beyond, many of whom did not return to the city until very late in the evening.

—Only Commissioners Bowles, Madden, Richardson, Smith and Wilson answered to their names at the adjourned meeting of the board of education on Saturday evening. The business to be transacted demanding the presence of a full board, an adjournment was taken until this evening at eight o'clock.

—The band concert at the rink Saturday evening was fairly well attended and was a fine entertainment. For fine music the Bower City band is noted, and they did especially well, even for themselves. These concerts should become very popular as the admission fee is small and they afford a very pleasant opportunity to hear first class music.

—Miss Frank H. Whiting, daughter of Dr. J. B. Whiting, gave a lawn party on Saturday evening to a large number of friends. The pleasant evening, the elegant condition of the lawn, the full and free flow of soul among the guests, and the handsome manner in which Miss Whiting entertained the company, made the gathering one of rare pleasure.

—Judge Rutten decided this morning that George Wolf, of Turtle, had gone wrong, and that he was guilty of the charge of assault and battery preferred against him by John Benesky, of the same town. Fined five dollars and costs. This afternoon the case of the "State against Anton J. Meinhart, charged with stealing jewelry and clothing from the home of W. J. Allen of the second ward, is being considered.

—Reports of the weather have been coming into the Gazette office all day. Mr. N. Cole, residing on South Second street, near the high school building, reports that at twelve o'clock yesterday his thermometer, hanging on the north side of a large tree, indicated 98 degrees above zero.

—Mr. A. W. Longley, of Chicago, met with what came near being a very serious accident about nine o'clock last Saturday evening. He is spending the summer at his country residence on the Emerald Grove road, and on Saturday he started in company with his wife for a ride to this city. When just entering town his horse shied at a dog that ran across the road, the buggy was tipped over, and Mr. and Mrs. Longley were thrown upon the ground. Mrs. Longley escaped without serious injury but her husband fell in such a manner as to dislocate his shoulder besides being bruised badly. Mr. James Galbraith was close behind, came along helped them to straighten up again, and took them back home, notwithstanding the efforts of a skeptical German who remarked: "Ven dey vall mit dot road down, dey vas grezy, and it?" A doctor was called and the injured shoulder drawn into place, but it will be some time before Mr. Longley can leave the house again.

—That was a laughable circumstance which happened on North Main street shortly after seven o'clock last evening.

A couple of second ward young ladies were on their way to church, reaching the corner of Main and North Second streets just in time to stop in front of a procession of some fifty or sixty men and boys who had been up the river picnic-

ing. The leader of the procession was carrying a large three-gallon brown jug while the remainder of the party were marching leisurely along in rowing fashion. The young ladies from the hill "tumbled" to the situation, but as there was no corner to allow them to "switch off," they bravely headed the column up to Milwaukee street was reached, where the picnic column was disbanded, the ladies passing to the next corner, turned an eye to the rearward, catching a glimpse of the now broken column of pursuers, and wondered if people would think they had been up to the picnic with a party carrying an empty jug.

A TOBACCO CENTER.

Rock County With an Area of Eleven Thousand Acres Devoted to the "Leaf" - Very Naturally Turns to the County Seat for a Market.

With its shipping and other desirable facilities, what is to prevent Janesville from becoming the center for growing tobacco district? Simply nothing but inactivity. If as a city we allow the golden opportunity now presented to pass unimproved, we are doing ourselves a great injustice and adding one more to the long list of blunders that have retarded our growth. A little enterprise properly directed at the right time often means success to an individual. What is true of a single life is equally true in the history of a corporation.

The right time is now at hand to concentrate energy and enterprise in the interests of our city as related to the tobacco industry. The eleven thousand acres of growing crop at a very low estimate of yield and prices, means a round million of money for the producer. Under circumstances as favorable as these, year to crop and prices, fifty per cent can safely be added to this estimate. If Janesville will furnish the warehouse facilities, it is safe to assume that the bulk of this money will find its way to the hands of the producer through home channels. Any man who stops to think for a moment must admit that a market of the magnitude indicated is a financial benefit to any town and interests to a greater or less extent every resident. The fact that land in the vicinity of Janesville has nearly doubled in value during the past four years is all the argument necessary to convince capital that money invested in tobacco land is safe and insures a good income. A casual observation of the men who have handled the crop during the same length of time ought to be sufficient guarantee that a warehouse investment is safe.

From a broader standpoint, what adds to the wealth of soil and individuals adds to the material wealth of towns and corporations.

Looking at the question from the broader and less conservative standpoint the Gazette would respectfully suggest that the city of Janesville could well afford to donate all the land and all the warehouses necessary to handle every acre of tobacco that the county will produce for the next five years. What we want is a city more than any other one thing is more people. The surest method of increasing our population and the most speedy, is to encourage a profitable industry. With an abundance of warehouse facilities we can furnish employment next winter for fifteen hundred laborers. Shall we have the warehouses?

Tobacco sales. Sales of seed leaf tobacco reported by J. S. Gane & Co., tobacco brokers, No. 121 Water street, New York, for the week ending July 20, 1885:

Occupants of the New Jefferson Hotel. The new Jefferson hotel will be completed in a few days when it will be occupied as follows:

The entire basement will be occupied by Usher's Cafe.

The front of the building, ground floor will be occupied by the Merchants' and Mechanics' bank; the next office in the rear of the bank, the Goudrey Bros.' will occupy, and the remaining two rooms will be occupied by Miss Mary Morrissey, as a dressmaking establishment.

The front office on the second floor will be occupied by Fethers, Jeffries & Smith, law office; the next offices by Wilson Lane, law office. The remaining office at the west end has been applied for but not yet rented.

The entire third floor will be occupied by Oriental Lodge No. 23, Knights of Pythias, the rooms having been finished expressly for this lodge.

The Jeffries block, which is not the largest, is unquestionably the handsomest building in Janesville, and we are glad to note that it is to be occupied soon with good business and society offices.

How to Reach the Records of Colorado. Colorado has become famous for its marvelous gold and silver production, for its picturesque scenery, and its delightful climate. Its mining towns and camps, its massive mountains, with their beautiful green-wooded valleys, lofty snow-capped peaks and snow-covered mountains, together with its hot and cold mineral springs and baths, and its beautiful climate, are attracting to great numbers each year, tourists, invalids, pleasure and business seekers from all parts of the world.

At each of the prominent Colorado resorts are spacious hotels so completely appointed that every appreciable comfort and luxury are bestowed upon their patrons.

The journey, from Chicago, Peoria or St. Louis to Denver, the great distributing point for Colorado, is made over the Burlington Route (C. & Q. R. R.) which is as pleasant and gratifying as it is possible for a railroad trip to be. It is the only line with its own track between the Great Lakes and the Rocky Mountains, and the only line running every day in the year through trains between Chicago, Peoria or St. Louis and Denver. It also runs through daily trains between Kansas City and Denver. These through trains are elegantly equipped with all the modern improvements, and ride you over a track that is as smooth and safe as a road, and is a perfect roadbed, steel rails, iron bridges, interlocking switches and other devices, constructed in the most skillful and scientific manner, can make all the coupon ticket holders in the United States and Canada will be found on sale, during the tourist season; round trip tickets via this popular route, at low rates to Denver, Colorado Springs, and Pueblo, Colorado. No man in Janesville has a firmer trust in human nature than a west side traveling man had up to a short time ago. He was in the habit of selling the boys in a certain hardware store every time they turned their backs, and they had stood it patiently. One day, however, things became a little too interesting and from that time on they laid for him. It wasn't until a few days ago that the long-looked-for chance came. He dropped into the store on his way up to supper, one evening, and while one of the boys called him out to look at the new fire-escape on the woodshed, another hid his box of berries which had been laid on the counter, leaving another in its place. The traveling man returned, picked up the package, which he supposed was his own, and started for home. The supposition fruit was turned over to his French cook, and court adjourned until supper time, but it was considerably less than two minutes from the time she opened the package until she surprised the head of the house with the conundrum: "Mister Boltzberg, do you know how old this berries is?" Share there is nothing left but husks." Mr. Boltzberg didn't know, but when he looked over the box it struck him that the chances for having berries at supper were poor. The boys had taken good care of the fruit but had left him a choice collection of peanut shells and gravel to remember them by, and to judge from the bloodthirsty look which spread over his face, their scheme was a success. He told them that he only carried the box to the first corner, but his family told a different story, and it cost him a whole handful of gumdrops "Under the table" cigars to stop allusions to raspberries. The guilty man hasn't been found out yet but three or four hardware men have been buying life insurance policies, so he thinks that his revenge will come soon.

BOOMERS WELCOMED.

GREAT EXCITEMENT IN CAPT. COUCH'S OKLAHOMA CAMP.

Warriors by Wholesale Charging "Seditious Conspiracy"—The Settlers Refuse to Give Bond—The Women Threaten to Assault the Jail.

LAWRENCE, Kan., July 29.—A man who has just arrived in this city from the camp of the Oklahoma boomers at Caldwell says that there has been intense excitement in the camp over the arrest of Captain Crocker of the War Chief on the charges of "seditious conspiracy" and "inciting insurrection and rebellion against the United States government." From what sources the news was made in consequence of some article or articles that have appeared in The War Chief. Mr. Crocker flatly refused to give bonds for his appearance at Fort Leavenworth, Ok., to answer to the charges made against him, and declared he would rather go to jail than live without freedom of speech and press. He said he would keep up the editorial management of the War Chief, and he would not go to jail to answer to the charges made against him, and he would rather go to jail than live without freedom of speech and press. He said he would keep up the editorial management of the War Chief, and he would not go to jail to answer to the charges made against him, and he would rather go to jail than live without freedom of speech and press.

The following following the arrest of Mr. Crocker Deputy United States Marshal Harlan ordered the boomers camp with 100 men to be arrested was to be served with two warrants, one charging him with "seditious conspiracy" and the other with "inciting insurrection and rebellion against the United States government." The deputy marshal arrested Mr. Elchberger and two men named Jones, who at once signed bonds for their release. As for the arrest of the deputy marshal, it was known a meeting was called to decide what steps should be taken in the matter, and a resolution was passed declaring that all who were to be arrested would go to jail together, and that they would not leave for their appearance. This resolution was made known to the deputy marshal, and the consequence was that he had no more arrests, but as a left camp with a warrant to serve on Capt. Crocker, who was not then in camp. He and the captain in Caldwell and proceeded to serve the warrant on the captain. The captain, who was referred to as "the captain," said the deputy marshal had been in the camp, and the officer would have to take him there. The deputy marshal withdrew without making the arrest and left on the first train for Arkansas City.

The greatest excitement prevailed in the camp during the time the deputy United States Marshal was there, and the wives of the boomers declared that if their husbands were incarcerated in Cowley county jail they would march there in a body and lay down the doors of the jail and set them at liberty.

It is reported that Mr. Crocker has engaged the services of the Hon. B. F. Butler as counsel for his defense.

Four Men Killed on the Rail. GALESTOWN, Tex., July 29.—A passenger train on the Atchafalaya, Topoka & Santa Fe railroad, between Atchafalaya and Topoka, between 8 and 9 o'clock, on a mile east of Algonquin. The accident was caused by a large irrigation ditch breaching over and washing away a portion of the track. Harvey Wilson, the engineer, was killed; Frank Atchison, the fireman, was killed; two other men were killed; Express Messenger Bennett was dangerously hurt; a passenger named Abbott had his arm and leg fractured. The train was wrecked and the contents precipitated into the water, but most of the valuables were afterward recovered. The railway company are actively making repairs and clearing away the debris of the wrecked train, so that the objection of trains will be of short duration.

Day View Mills. MILWAUKEE, July 29.—A conference was held Saturday in Bay View between the local scale committee of the mill employers and the representatives of the North Chicago company. The result was a satisfactory adjustment of differences. A 10 per cent reduction was agreed upon in the merchants' mill, where new iron is employed. Where old iron is employed, as is done in the ship-building mill, no reduction of the scale is made. This was in substance the result of the conference. The fish-plate mill is running, but it is not likely that the other mills will start before August. The mill-owners will still keep the same time as the difficulty there is not settled.

Suitors of a Stranger. LEMONT, Ill., July 29.—Thursday evening a stranger for a man, at 45 Old American house and died Friday afternoon from a dose of morphine taken, according to the coroner's jury, with suicidal intent. A whisky label was found in his room, on which was the name of St. Henry & Co., Grand Central Hotel, St. Louis. The only money on his person was 10 cents. No clue to his identity was found. He was about five feet five inches tall, of dark complexion, had dark hair and very light eyes. His age was about 25 years and weight about 135 pounds. He wore a dark coat and vest, light pants, and straw hat.

Threatened to Sweep the Whole Village. NEW YORK, July 29.—At noon Sunday a fire, which, at one time, threatened to destroy nearly the whole of the village of New Rochelle, Staten Island, broke out in the extensive plaster works of King & Wooster. This entire fire department on the island was called out, but the flames made such rapid progress that a message was sent to the fire department of the city of New York. The flames were extinguished by the city fire department. The damage was estimated at $20,000 which, it is understood, is fully covered by insurance.
